

Through The Night

Bring me some wine cause I can't sleep
Time flies by and I'm still here
Take me through the night
Carry me through the dark side of my life

Maybe take me back to where we've started
I can't remember, but I try to walk

There is something inside myself
It keeps me awake inside this empty shell
Are you still here?
Please stay here all through the night

I wanna be sure, tomorrow is a new day
I wanna be sure, tomorrow is a new day, a brand new day

My life is pretty much the same
Nothing has changed, nothing
But I have a choice how to live my life
Forgotten are all the white lies in my life

Please, tell me where I have to go
Transform my anger and pain into something beautiful

And now I can see the sun
A new day has come, a new beginning

I'm in desperate need of change
To see my world in a different light
